

VALPARAISO IS LAST SUFFERER

Earthquake Affects The Principal City Of Chili--Fire Adds To The Horror.

REPORTS THUS FAR ARE MEAGRE

Line Of Communication Is Broken And Messages Come In Round-About Manner To News Distributing Centers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] New York, Aug. 17.—A cable advice reports the city of Valparaiso, Chile, was badly damaged by an earthquake and many persons killed and injured today.

Bad As Frisco.

One report received here says the situation in Valparaiso may prove to be as serious as the San Francisco disaster as practically every building in the city is damaged and there are fires in the different parts of the city.

Interrupted Cables.

The earthquake has interrupted the cable facilities to the lower South American points and communication is restricted to the route via Lisbon.

Loss of Life.

Another report from Valparaiso says the loss of life has been confined. Valparaiso is the most important commercial town on the western coast of South America and has a population of 150,000.

Burned All Night.

A report has reached the city that portions of Valparaiso were burning all night and the bodies of hundreds of residents are buried in the ruins.

Not as Bad.

New York, Aug. 17.—The Central and South American Telegraph company have re-established their main office in Valparaiso and are working with the city now. This would seem to indicate the conditions are not as serious as was first reported.

In Argentina.

London, Aug. 17.—The earthquake shock was felt at Mendoza, Argentina, last night but did not result in any serious consequences, according to dispatches from Buenos Ayres.

Big South American Port.

Valparaiso is one of the principal ports on the west coast of South America. It is located in the province of Valparaiso and on a fine bay of the South Pacific Ocean, being 70 miles northwest of Santiago, with which place is connected by a circuitous railway, 115 miles in length. The city lies at the south end of the bay, which is two and a half miles wide, office two miles from father's farm; you could get to another four miles; you could go to another six miles; to another twelve miles, and so on. We got mail once a week—all that the department in those days thought necessary. We got the New York papers. If a man was a democrat he got the old New York Evening Post. If he was a little off color and did not want to be a full democrat he could take the New York Herald. If he was a little when that came on Friday Saturday you could go down to the postoffice where there was a store or a blacksmith shop, etc., and could probably find a dozen or fifteen or twenty boys of the neighborhood all the way from ten to twenty years old who had come for the mail. It was a delight for the boys to go after the mail. They had a little social conference with each other. That condition did not call for any relief by the government.

In the death of John Dederick Strassburg, a clerk in the postoffice at Louisville, Ky., the oldest postal employee in the United States, and probably in the world has been removed. Strassburg had just passed the 82nd milestone in life, having been born in Hanover, Germany, June 2, 1818. He came to America in 1831 and on March 6, 1843 was appointed to a clerkship in the Louisville postoffice by President Taylor. Since that time up to the day of his death he had been employed in the Louisville postoffice without interruption, having served under sixteen different presidents. Owing to his long term of service in the postal department his picture has been exhibited in the display of the department at some of the large expositions.

Col. William M. Wallace of the 15th cavalry has the reputation of being the American army officer who stopped the murderous Mohammedan practices of the natives of the Philippine Islands. Col. Wallace has had a distinguished career of forty years' service in the army and will retire for age on October 22nd next. It will be recalled that some years ago when the Philippines were wrestling with the American authorities in the Philippines and endeavoring to shake off the authority of the United States, that our army officers were compelled to resort to some rather cruel practices in order to put an end to their disobedience. Among the many methods in vogue at that time by American army officers was what was known as the "water cure" which was effective, but Col. Wallace devised a scheme which totally eclipsed this method and was far more successful than the somewhat cruel practices of other officers. In 1902 Mohammedan religious fanatics residing in the city of Jolo, Philippine Islands,

We read each day reports of the terrible things the Russian revolutionists are going to do—but at present writing we notice the Czar's job seems about as secure as ever.

VETERANS' ENCAMPMENT COMES TO OFFICIAL END

G. A. R. And Affiliated Associations Close Annual Conventions At Minneapolis Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 17.—The G. A. R. today decided to hold the encampment of 1907 in Saratoga, N. Y.

The encampment passed a resolution providing its commander-in-chief should communicate with the commander of the Southern Veterans' association and express a hope that the erection of a monument to Henry Wirz near Andersonville prison would not take place. A question of deprecating the passage by congress of a law abolishing the canteen in the old soldiers' homes was laid on the table.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 17.—Worn out by the round of continuous pleasure that has been theirs since they arrived in Minneapolis early in the week, the members of affiliated organizations and the thousands of other visitors who have been here today saw the official end of what is loudly praised as one of the most successful national encampments in the history of the G. A. R.

The various organizations assembled for their final session today and cleaned the decks of all unfinished business. The new officers were kept busy receiving congratulations; while no less effusive demonstrations were given in honor of their predecessors. On every hand nothing but praise is heard for the manner in which Minneapolis has played the host. Despite the fact that crowds were even larger than were calculated every detail of the reception and entertainment program has been carried out with machine-like precision. The tens of thousands of strangers have been treated as the city's guests; in every sense of the word. The local committees have made it a point to see that the visitors have not been victimized by overcharging.

The departing trains today were well filled and tomorrow will see a majority of the visitors with their faces turned homeward. Some will remain in this vicinity sight-seeing for a few days longer, while others will avail themselves of the opportunity to take a run up into Canada or a trip through the great lakes. Many of the visitors from New England and the East will extend their trip on to the Pacific coast and will visit California and other parts before returning home.

SULTAN OF TURKEY CAN LIVE BUT BRIEF SPACE

Eminent Physicians From All European Capitals Called Into Consultation--Question Of Succession.

[Special to The Gazette.] Vienna, Aug. 17.—Private advices received here from Constantinople confirm the rumors that have been current for some time regarding the critical condition of the Sultan's health. Abdul Hamid undoubtedly is a very sick man. His nervous system is in a state of collapse. Eminent physicians from Paris, Berlin and this city have been called into consultation; but they have been unable to bring about any lasting relief in the Sultan's condition. The physicians declare that he cannot live much longer, and the succession to the throne is likely to be a matter of vital interest at any time.

It is said that the several reform organizations opposed to the present ruler of Turkey have decided to combine their efforts in support of Mehmed Reshad Effendi, who according to Mussulman law, is the heir apparent, and the legal successor of Abdul Hamid. But in direct violation of the law the Sultan has nominated his third son, Prince Mehmed Burhan Eddin Effendi, who is now 21 years of age, a singularly bright and handsome young man, and whom the Sultan loves above all those other children of his, who rank as princes and princesses of the blood. Mehmed Burhan Eddin is the son of that one of all the wives of the Sultan whom he loved best, and who, from a Turkish point of view, was of the most lovely birth. The young man has been brought up largely by European tutors and in European fashion. Mehmed Reshad, upon whom the "Young Turkey party" has decided for the throne, is a brother of the present Sultan, and two years his junior. He lives as a partial prisoner in one of the palaces on the Bosphorus, surrounded by paid spies and guards of the Sultan, who report to their master everything he says and does. He is known to have liberal progressive ideas which, of course, are offensive to his imperial brother, and are the reason why the latter has attempted to put him out of the succession. He has conducted himself with great discretion and prudence, however, and has furnished no excuse for his assassination or imprisonment.

The reform element maintains that the law of the empire expressly states that the eldest living male member of the family shall be the successor to the throne and that the Sultan has no right to choose his favorite son or name anyone else to succeed him. Three of the Sultan's brothers and two of his elder sons stand between Mehmed Burhan and the throne. But the Sultan has seen fit to change the order of succession and the leading authorities on the subject of Koranic law and doctrine declare there is no religious obstacle to the change. They cite as an illustration of the fact that no objection was raised by Mohammedan theologians either at Constantinople or at Cairo when the order of succession was changed in Egypt, primogeniture established, and the then Khedive's eldest son proclaimed heir to the throne in lieu of Prince Halim, the Khedive's cousin.

WASHINGTON TALK ON CELEBRITIES

GENERAL GOSSIP ON THE SITUATION IS REVIEWED.

BY WILLIAM WOLFF SMITH

Bits of Interesting Chit Chat of Men of Prominence in Nation's Capital.

Washington, D. C., August 17.—Special Correspondence.—It is the fashion these days and doubtless will continue during the campaign for the democratic congressmen to claim that the recent act regulating railroad rates is a democratic measure. Whether the democrats will be so anxious to claim credit for the act after its operation has been tested depends on the outcome of the attempt to administer it. Representative Russell of Texas recently said: "Whatever else may be said of the railways, they are fighters and they are no quitters. You may whip them the first five days of the week, but they will fight you just as gamely on Saturday. But did we not have in the president a fighter and not a quitter? Would not the president have charged at San Juan Hill, just as many of us thought he did, if he had been there? Is the president a quitter? Let the sequel answer?" The fact that thirty or more railroad attorneys are now in conference at Atlantic City in an effort to ascertain what the act really means and how to escape possible injurious effects justifies the statement of Mr. Russell's that the railroads are fighters and not quitters.

Among all the senators, Mr. Foraker is one of the quickest at repartee. Senator Beveridge had succeeded in quietly getting the statehood bill advanced on the calendar and the bill was being read by the clerk when the Ohio senator discovered it. In asking how the bill got that far ahead without his knowing, Mr. Beveridge replied that he was engaged in conversation at the time. To this Mr. Foraker quickly replied: "I have had my pocket picked but once and after it was done I recalled that somebody engaged me in conversation just at that moment."

STEVE KINNEY TO BE IN PRELIMINARY

Boxer Who Scrapped in City Last Winter to Meet Harry Griffin in Milwaukee Tonight.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Milwaukee, Wis., August 17.—An eight-round bout between Charley Neary, the Milwaukee lightweight, and Aurelio Herrera, the hard hitting Mexican, is the magnet that is expected to draw the patrons of the Badger Athletic club to the club arena tonight. The bout has been under discussion for a long time and with the approach of the date the interest among the fight followers has lived to a noticeable degree. It will be Herrera's first appearance in the ring since his fiasco with Battling Nelson at Los Angeles. The past records of the two fighters justify the expectation of a lively battle. They have met three times, and each contest has been a draw. If Neary succeeds in getting the decision in tonight's go he will immediately endeavor to get on a match with Nelson. Both Neary and Herrera have been working faithfully to get into condition, though the Mexican as a rule is notably lax in his training work. Both now appear to be in fine fettle, fit to fight the battle of their lives.

Several promising preliminaries have been arranged by the club. The complete card for the show is as follows: Aurelio Herrera vs. Charley Neary, 130 pounds; Steve Kinney vs. Harry Griffin, 133 pounds; Jack Nolan vs. Willie McManara, 126 pounds; Young Sharkey vs. Young Greenwald, 105 pounds.

Local interest in the Canadian shrine was aroused last year, when several miraculous cures were reported among a party of pilgrims from the Boston archdiocese.

GEORGE R. PECK TO HEAD CONVENTION

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 17.—The program has been announced for the twenty-ninth annual meeting of the American Bar association, to be held in this city during the last three days of this month. Peck of Chicago. Other eminent legal lights who are to contribute papers or addresses to the meeting are Roscoe Pound of Lincoln, Neb.; Thomas K. Kernan of Baton Rouge, La.; and General George B. Davis, Judge Advocate-General of the United States army. Eminent representatives of the foremost law schools of America will speak before the section of legal education. A Woman's Revenge

It is perfectly comprehensible how man can go on wearing the clothes he does; how he can balance on his head a huge black jam pot with a ledge to it, increase his limbs in long, tight sacks of dingy hue and wear round his manly throat something resembling a shining metal band. Every new fashion for man that comes out appears to me uglier than the last.—Spenser.

The Barbarian in Art

Herr Jakob Pollak, manufacturer of woodenware, went to a concert, where he heard Sarasate playing. The audience, entranced with his music, listened in breathless silence, when Pollak suddenly nudged his neighbor, saying: "Pardon me, but how much does such a violin cost?"

Hard Pressed

"Oh, Henry," exclaimed his wife, as she threw her arms, rapturously about his neck, "I do love you, so! Don't forget to leave me $5 when you go down to town this morning, will you, dear?" "And this," muttered Henry, softly disengaging himself from her fond embrace, "this is what you might call being hard pressed for money."

"Peril" in the Handshake

The hygienist has kindly discovered there are millions of microbes in a handshake. "What patience and exactitude he must possess! But let us be brave and go on exchanging them. If it pleases science to count microbes the lay world can do not less than give science permission to proceed with the stunt." However, recollect there are good microbes as well as bad ones.

Beautiful Madrid Palace

The royal palace at Madrid is one of the most beautiful structures in the world. It was built at a cost of $5,000,000; and was intended to rival the famous palace at Versailles. Of white marble, it is 470 feet each way, with a court, 240 feet square, roofed with glass.

Waterproof Dressing for Shoes

The following is a very good recipe for a waterproof dressing for leather. Spermaceti, four parts; pure gum rubber, cut very small, one part. Melt with a gentle heat, and then add talc, low or hard, ten parts; copal varnish, five parts; mix well and apply the composition to the leather with a paint brush. Be sure and let the rubber dissolve without stirring, it will take four or five hours.

Emerson wrote—among a hundred thousand other valuable things—this: "The effect already blooms in the cause, the end pre-exists in the means, the fruit in the seed." The store's busiest day pre-exists in the store's best advertising.

High prices are being paid for labor in Janesville and labor is scarce.

"Billy" Sunday may come to Janesville to deliver a series of revival sermons during the winter.

Davidson and Connor appear to have a combination that will be hard to beat, but Lenroot and La Follette with Strange thrown in as a side issue appear to be trying hard to do it.

If for no other reason than to show respect to the office he holds, Senator La Follette should be permitted to speak to a large audience at the opera-house Saturday evening.

What a sermon can be preached from the failure of the Milwaukee Avenue Bank of Chicago! What a tale of depravity and excess is the story of the fleeing bank president and the cashier now in the toils!

The selection of county officials is a puzzling one. The office of sheriff is a complicated affair and the fight on the present district attorney and clerk of the circuit court is becoming heated. The Fourth of September will decide it all, however.

The Delavan Republican endorses Nolan's candidacy for congress and states that he will receive a large majority of votes cast in Delavan on primary day. In closing it says: "He is not a honeycombed politician who has held office for fourteen years in the district like the present incumbent."

The Beloit Free Press is pleased that the Gazette admits Cooper is a good man. Of course, he is. He never was convicted of any crime; even if he did betray the interests of his constituents in his vote on the Philippine bill. If he appoints the editor of the Free Press to that postoffice job, again he certainly will be a good man.

Senator La Follette has declared there is to be no healing of the old factional sores in the republican party and refers back to the time when he alleges his delegates to conventions in Milwaukee were bribed to desert him. Well, he is supposed to be the doctor, but primary day will see whether the old physician is to control the actions of the patient or another is to be called into consultation.

The Milwaukee Journal publishes a letter to Governor Davidson asking that he withdraw from the race and giving several silly reasons, chief among them one that the so-called stalwarts are supporting him. These self-same stalwarts are better republicans than the Journal and can vote just as intelligently as any editor of the Milwaukee organ of discontented republicans and democrats. They will vote for Lenroot or Davidson without any dictation from Milwaukee.

A GOOD IDEA
The order of Eagles at Chillicothe, Ohio, has just presented the city with a thousand dollars for a new bandstand. Here is an idea. The citizens of Janesville appear to want a bandstand; why not allow the Eagles to present it to them? They are permitted to hold ball games each Sunday without molestation; they hold boxing carnivals during the winter months without paying the city a license fee, and last year were given the streets free for a week that they might conduct a carnival from which the city obtained nothing. Why not allow them to present the city with a neat bandstand for the Court House Park? Who seconds the idea?

LA FOLLETTE COMING
Tomorrow evening Senator R. M. La Follette, Wisconsin's junior senator in the upper house of congress, will speak at the Myers Opera House. He will be greeted by a large audience who will listen with interest to his statements regarding state political questions. Senator La Follette is a magnificent speaker and he is talking on a subject that is vital to his interests and will doubtless be at his best. The nomination of Irving Lenroot will be his text and he will doubtless convince many that Lenroot is a paragon of every virtue necessary to take his seat in the gubernatorial chair. While many of his audience will fall to be convinced all should listen attentively to the man who two years ago denounced other Senators who dared to enter into a state political fight in the interest of republicanism as they understood it.

THAT BUGABOO
These postoffice jobs are making all hob with the newspapers through out the first district. The two Beloit papers both have candidates seeking the place and now up pops Clinton with another. Of course, everybody understands why the Clinton Banner attacks Mr. Nolan and deliberately mistakes facts—the postoffice. Keep it up. If you are not rewarded in this election you may be in another. However, stick to facts and not to glittering generalities. Facts count and no one can get away from the fact that Cooper voted against the best interests of the majority of his constituents in the Philippine bill. Perhaps the editor of the Banner does not know that the great sugar and tobacco trusts were anxious to have the Philippine bill passed, as they had obtained large grants of land in the Philippines on which they could produce more tobacco and sugar and at cheaper rates, including transportation to the United States, than it could be grown in Wisconsin. Today prices for tobacco are higher than ever before and the same may be said of sugar beets. It means dollars and cents to the first congressional district and dollars and cents mean prosperity, no matter how it is spelled. Over three million dollars is tied up in tobacco in Rock county alone and the introduction of foreign labor, cheap foreign labor, in competition with honest American toil is something that is to be guarded against. The Gazette does not endorse actions of any trust working in restraint of trade, but it supports honest American labor. The farmer is deserving of his just dues and his interests should be safeguarded against encroachment of foreign labor. Rock county is the center of the Million-Dollar tobacco belt of Wisconsin. It has long been a staple crop, one which could be depended upon to raise the mortgage from the farm and place the grower in an independent position. With the passage of such a bill as the Philippine bill, bringing into competition tobacco grown at a cheaper cost than can be grown in Wisconsin, it means the death blow to this industry in Wisconsin. Not only is the farmer the direct beneficiary of this product, but thousands of men and women find employment during the winter months in the sorting rooms of the big warehouses. The same is true of the sugar beets. The crop is in its infancy now. The large factory at Janesville can handle many thousand more tons each year than they do and in time this will be one of the most important products of the country. To deliberately blind the eyes of the voters to these facts for the sake of a postoffice appointment—a few sordid dollars for oneself—is criminal. If you must discuss the question discuss it in its entirety, not from a biased standpoint. Mr. Cooper, voted for this measure and for his action except to state in his circular that what he saw in his recent trip to the Philippines convinced him this measure was best for that country. If he would spend his spare time in the first district—his district—he might find that the interests of the people who have loyally supported him for the past fourteen years were more vital to his interests and to the prosperity of the community than is the wish of the sugar and tobacco trusts to have the measure passed so that they may profit by it. If Mr. Cooper had wanted to make a name for himself in congress as a friend of the people why did not he attack the steel trust, the railroad trust or some other burning question of the day? Instead of that he indicated by his vote that he cared nothing for the district that has sent him to congress and that there prosperity was secondary to his own personal views.

Material and Moral Poisoners
Evening Wisconsin: A Madison man threw meat treated with cyanide of potassium about the streets of that city, causing the death of many valuable dogs, and imperiling the lives of children, and has been arrested and fined $75. It is a wicked thing to throw poison about the streets. Pictures that are morally poisonous have been furiously circulated broadcast in Milwaukee during the past two days. The law should promptly intervene.

Wisconsin Timber for Presidency
Ashland Press: "Wisconsin has never had a president," although it has had plenty of presidential material. Of such material was the late Jerry Rusk and Lucius Fairchild and Mark Carpenter. Senator Vilas, John C. Spooner, and Robert M. La Follette are decidedly good material for the presidency, and the prediction is freely made that inside of the next dozen years, one of this great trio will be elected president of the United States.

Is the Organ Recanting?
Viroqua Republican: Whether the Milwaukee Free Press has quietly changed editors or the old editor has been attending revival meeting, it is hard to guess, but appearances tend to establish the suspicion that something has happened in the way of a miraculous revelation that truth exists and that honesty is a policy, even though they have not come to a full realization that it is always "the best policy."

The March King's Opera
Everybody's Magazine: When John Philip Sousa writes the music for an opera it is bound to have swing and dash, an abundance of vitality, a spirit of youth and enthusiasm. It is with good reason that Sousa is called "the March King." There is no resisting his martial strains; even those of the elect who scoff at Sousa must not keep their feet still when the band begins to play. "The Free Lance" is probably the best comic opera he has written. Not only is there an abundance of march numbers, but there are some tender lyrics and jolly comic jingles as well. Harry B. Smith's book is hardly in keeping with the music, which deserves something especially fine, instead of a pleasant, mildly amusing libretto, built up upon perfectly safe lines. He uses a familiar musical comedy theme in a way not sufficiently original to be startling, but, as always, he succeeds in giving an imposing pictorial climax. The words for the songs are charming, of course. Mr. Smith has a marvelous gift for writing songs. He must have turned out thousands in his long and active career, and it is doubtful if he ever produced a really bad one.

HAVE ORGANIZED CLUB TO HELP GOVERNOR DAVIDSON
Oxfordville, Wis., Aug. 17.—Last Saturday evening a Davidson-Connor club was organized by the election of E. N. Haugen, president; K. N. Grunhild, vice president; I. V. Slater, secretary, and K. C. Rostad, treasurer. Five petitions for membership were entrusted in the hands of Messrs. Joe Garbutt, H. C. Shenk, Perry Gaarder, C. O. Onsgard and Nels Benson, and by Monday night more than two hundred members were obtained. It is expected that the list will be increased to double that number by the close of the week, and funds will be raised to carry on a vigorous campaign. The supporters of Mr. Davidson feel that he is entitled to fair play, and resent the attitude of his opposition. If Mr. Davidson was a fit man for the office of lieutenant governor why is he not entitled to an advancement by the election to the office of governor of the state at the hands of the people? Naturally the Norwegian people of Oxfordville and vicinity have followed the governor's career with interest, and feel that his party owes him the El Paso Herald: From current indications Roosevelt would not run again anyway—it would be a mere walkover.

Puzzle Expert Also a Factor
Exchange: There were only 11,000,000 "dead letters" from our 90,000,000 people last year, which shows that the American averages pretty good hand writing.

Shocked 'Em with a Dividend
Milwaukee News: The Portland exposition not only paid expenses, but returned a dividend to its stockholders. It was taking a fearful risk, however, with the stockholders' lives to give them such a shock.

Steel Parasols Will Be Needed
Exchange: One of the experts predicts that while the airship will not be nearly so dangerous to the bystander as the auto, it will be much more of a nuisance dropping tomato cans down his neck.

Fair Builders of Little Yachts
Evening Wisconsin: The Canadian yacht Zoraya captured the Fisher cup at Rochester, in a series of races with the Froquois, representing the Rochester Yacht club, holder of the trophy. The Canadians seem to be skillful in planning the lines of fast yachts of the smaller type.

Telling the Plain Truth
Carnegie (Ok.) Herald: Dan Peery came in from his cornfield in the west part of town Monday evening carrying a stalk on his shoulder that looked more like a young sapling than a stalk of corn. We did not measure it, but our readers can get some idea of its length when we tell them that while Mr. Peery stood on the corner at the Citizens' bank showing it to some friends he turned partly around and the stalk end of the stalk knocked off a lady's hat one block west.

Yellow in the Diamond
If you wish your diamonds to be "dew white" don't let any yellow furnishings come near them. Women with splendid parures have found that yellow satin and brocade "kill" their gems, and even jewelers are careful to show diamonds where no yellow light can touch them. The "off color" stone is brilliant, but doomed.

Sawdust Worth Money
The sawdust of fine hardwood brings good prices. There are about 12 varieties of it, and each has its appropriate use. Boxwood sawdust, the most expensive of all, is used by manufacturers to burnish silver plate and jewelry. Sandalwood is used for scent bars and for the preservation of furs.

"Sneezeland" Tree
One of the curiosities of South Africa is the "sneezeland" tree. No one can cut it with a saw without sneezing, as the fine dust is very irritating. Even planing the wood will sometimes cause sneezing. No insect of worm will touch it; it is very bitter to the taste, and when placed in water it sinks.

AMOS REHBERG & CO.
Two Stores, Clothing and Shoes. On the Bridge

Emerson wrote—among a hundred thousand other valuable things—this: "The effect already blooms in the cause, the end pre-exists in the means, the fruit in the seed." The store's busiest day pre-exists in the store's best advertising.

High prices are being paid for labor in Janesville and labor is scarce.

"Billy" Sunday may come to Janesville to deliver a series of revival sermons during the winter.

Davidson and Connor appear to have a combination that will be hard to beat, but Lenroot and La Follette with Strange thrown in as a side issue appear to be trying hard to do it.

If for no other reason than to show respect to the office he holds, Senator La Follette should be permitted to speak to a large audience at the opera-house Saturday evening.

What a sermon can be preached from the failure of the Milwaukee Avenue Bank of Chicago! What a tale of depravity and excess is the story of the fleeing bank president and the cashier now in the toils!

The selection of county officials is a puzzling one. The office of sheriff is a complicated affair and the fight on the present district attorney and clerk of the circuit court is becoming heated. The Fourth of September will decide it all, however.

The Delavan Republican endorses Nolan's candidacy for congress and states that he will receive a large majority of votes cast in Delavan on primary day. In closing it says: "He is not a honeycombed politician who has held office for fourteen years in the district like the present incumbent."

The Beloit Free Press is pleased that the Gazette admits Cooper is a good man. Of course, he is. He never was convicted of any crime; even if he did betray the interests of his constituents in his vote on the Philippine bill. If he appoints the editor of the Free Press to that postoffice job, again he certainly will be a good man.

Senator La Follette has declared there is to be no healing of the old factional sores in the republican party and refers back to the time when he alleges his delegates to conventions in Milwaukee were bribed to desert him. Well, he is supposed to be the doctor, but primary day will see whether the old physician is to control the actions of the patient or another is to be called into consultation.

The Milwaukee Journal publishes a letter to Governor Davidson asking that he withdraw from the race and giving several silly reasons, chief among them one that the so-called stalwarts are supporting him. These self-same stalwarts are better republicans than the Journal and can vote just as intelligently as any editor of the Milwaukee organ of discontented republicans and democrats. They will vote for Lenroot or Davidson without any dictation from Milwaukee.

A GOOD IDEA
The order of Eagles at Chillicothe, Ohio, has just presented the city with a thousand dollars for a new bandstand. Here is an idea. The citizens of Janesville appear to want a bandstand; why not allow the Eagles to present it to them? They are permitted to hold ball games each Sunday without molestation; they hold boxing carnivals during the winter months without paying the city a license fee, and last year were given the streets free for a week that they might conduct a carnival from which the city obtained nothing. Why not allow them to present the city with a neat bandstand for the Court House Park? Who seconds the idea?

LA FOLLETTE COMING
Tomorrow evening Senator R. M. La Follette, Wisconsin's junior senator in the upper house of congress, will speak at the Myers Opera House. He will be greeted by a large audience who will listen with interest to his statements regarding state political questions. Senator La Follette is a magnificent speaker and he is talking on a subject that is vital to his interests and will doubtless be at his best. The nomination of Irving Lenroot will be his text and he will doubtless convince many that Lenroot is a paragon of every virtue necessary to take his seat in the gubernatorial chair. While many of his audience will fall to be convinced all should listen attentively to the man

Material and Moral Poisoners
Evening Wisconsin: A Madison man threw meat treated with cyanide of potassium about the streets of that city, causing the death of many valuable dogs, and imperiling the lives of children, and has been arrested and fined $75. It is a wicked thing to throw poison about the streets. Pictures that are morally poisonous have been furiously circulated broadcast in Milwaukee during the past two days. The law should promptly intervene.

Wisconsin Timber for Presidency
Ashland Press: "Wisconsin has never had a president," although it has had plenty of presidential material. Of such material was the late Jerry Rusk and Lucius Fairchild and Mark Carpenter. Senator Vilas, John C. Spooner, and Robert M. La Follette are decidedly good material for the presidency, and the prediction is freely made that inside of the next dozen years, one of this great trio will be elected president of the United States.

Is the Organ Recanting?
Viroqua Republican: Whether the Milwaukee Free Press has quietly changed editors or the old editor has been attending revival meeting, it is hard to guess, but appearances tend to establish the suspicion that something has happened in the way of a miraculous revelation that truth exists and that honesty is a policy, even though they have not come to a full realization that it is always "the best policy."

The March King's Opera
Everybody's Magazine: When John Philip Sousa writes the music for an opera it is bound to have swing and dash, an abundance of vitality, a spirit of youth and enthusiasm. It is with good reason that Sousa is called "the March King." There is no resisting his martial strains; even those of the elect who scoff at Sousa must not keep their feet still when the band begins to play. "The Free Lance" is probably the best comic opera he has written. Not only is there an abundance of march numbers, but there are some tender lyrics and jolly comic jingles as well. Harry B. Smith's book is hardly in keeping with the music, which deserves something especially fine, instead of a pleasant, mildly amusing libretto, built up upon perfectly safe lines. He uses a familiar musical comedy theme in a way not sufficiently original to be startling, but, as always, he succeeds in giving an imposing pictorial climax. The words for the songs are charming, of course. Mr. Smith has a marvelous gift for writing songs. He must have turned out thousands in his long and active career, and it is doubtful if he ever produced a really bad one.

HAVE ORGANIZED CLUB TO HELP GOVERNOR DAVIDSON
Oxfordville, Wis., Aug. 17.—Last Saturday evening a Davidson-Connor club was organized by the election of E. N. Haugen, president; K. N. Grunhild, vice president; I. V. Slater, secretary, and K. C. Rostad, treasurer. Five petitions for membership were entrusted in the hands of Messrs. Joe Garbutt, H. C. Shenk, Perry Gaarder, C. O. Onsgard and Nels Benson, and by Monday night more than two hundred members were obtained. It is expected that the list will be increased to double that number by the close of the week, and funds will be raised to carry on a vigorous campaign. The supporters of Mr. Davidson feel that he is entitled to fair play, and resent the attitude of his opposition. If Mr. Davidson was a fit man for the office of lieutenant governor why is he not entitled to an advancement by the election to the office of governor of the state at the hands of the people? Naturally the Norwegian people of Oxfordville and vicinity have followed the governor's career with interest, and feel that his party owes him the

ROW-BOAT UPSET ON THE RAGING ROCK

Leonard Fardy and Robert Bear Were Dumped into the Deep off Water.

Works, Plant Yesterday.
General Delivery Clerk Leonard Fardy of the local postoffice and Robert Bear, were principals in a row-boat upset on the lower Rock about five o'clock yesterday afternoon. The accident occurred in mid-stream and the two men swam ashore with some little difficulty, impeded as they were by their shoes and clothing, while the craft, bottom-side up, complacently moved down river. The little cruise on the deep was beset with untoward happenings for the crew from the outset when Engineer Herbert A. Gridley of the water-works plant dropped a large boulder alongside and Mr. Fardy, who was standing up in the bow, in attempting to dodge the splash fell over the into a nearby boat. The general engineer continued at the water in the vicinity of the boating-party and whether justly or not he came in for a large share of the blame for the final catastrophe.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

Hostess at Corn Roast: Miss Helen Jeffris entertained at a corn roast at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Jeffris on East street Wednesday evening. Those present were the Misses Marian Blodgett, Clara Blodgett, Mildred Doty, Marcia Rogan, Hallie Turner and Eleanor Wheeler of Boston.

At Gridley Emulated: Rural Mail Carrier Gridley of this city has set the pace for government employees of his class. His use of an automobile in covering his route has been emulated by Paul Landeck of Freeport. At Stockton, Ill., John Parkinson uses a motor cycle for the same purpose.

Dull Week in the City: Merchants say that the present week is one of the dullest on record. The "slow" season is not only at its height but Janesville people—and their money—have been attracted away also. The cheap rates to Minneapolis and St. Paul for the G. A. R. encampment, induced many to visit the northwest. The Eagles' convention in Milwaukee is drawing others and scores are visiting Beloit, where the annual fair is in progress.

Responded to Still Alarm: The fire department was called to Howe Bros' factory by a still alarm at 11:45 last evening. Officer Fanning detected smoke in the building but upon close examination it was found to issue from the large chimney.

Sinking Another Well: Another well to furnish water for the brewery is being drilled in the Buob property at the foot of South Main street. The water supply for the making of the factory's product has been drawn from one well heretofore, but the increase of the output compels a larger source of water.

Buyers Schottel Property: Attorney William H. Dougherty has made the purchase of the residence formerly owned by C. J. Schottel, but recently the property of Mr. Pollock. Mr. Dougherty and family will soon move to their new home.

Pyre in Milwaukee: Walton Pyre, a Rock county boy well known in Janesville, has joined the Brown Bakers' stock company now playing in Milwaukee. He will make his first appearance with that organization Monday night, taking the role of Dr. Watson in the production of "Sherlock Holmes." He will be one of the leading members of the company.

Hurled from Carriage: As Mrs. Charles Wisch endeavored to turn about in front of the home of Mrs. Caroline Yager at S. Walker street this morning the horse which was driving overturned the carriage and threw her and the baby, which she held in her arms, to the road. Neither were injured, but the terrified horse, dragging and kicking the carriage, ran into the yard of J. W. Austin nearby, before being stopped. The buggy was badly demolished.

Many at Minneapolis: Among those who visited Minneapolis this week were Ernest Clemons, David Brown, Martin Timmons, Otto Rudolph, Thomas Hefferan, Andrew Hagan, Thomas Daly and the Misses Abbie McCarthy, Mame Blunk, Mame Kneff, Helen MacDonald and Maude MacDonald.

Hunting Licenses Here: The hunting license blanks which should have reached County Clerk Howard Lee some weeks ago arrived from Madison this morning and those desiring the permits will now be able to obtain them.

Seen at Libertyville: Janesville track fans are much interested in the announcement made this morning that The Broncho, which many of them saw race at Libertyville on the Fourth of July, appeared a mile in 2:02 on the Pekin track at Peoria, Ill., yesterday afternoon.

Bolt Caused Fire: A bolt of lightning at three o'clock this afternoon entered the residence of Mr. Stanley Smith at 9 Clark street and struck a gas fixture in the hall. Fire resulted and the department was called, but the flames were extinguished with but scarcely any damage being done.

MAY BUILD ANOTHER
FACTORY IN BELOIT

Silica Brick and Stone Company May Branch Out—More Orders Than Can Be Filled.

Inflowing orders of large dimensions and every promise of a continuance of the increasing demand for silica brick and concrete stone of the kind turned out at the Janesville plant of the Silica Brick and Stone company have brought the owners of the factory to consider extensive enlargements. The machinery located here can handle the sand almost as rapidly as it can be taken from the wonderful hills at the southern edge of the city and the big piles in Beloit and vicinity are attracting the attention of the stone-makers. The sand is of good quality and it is very probable that in due time the Janesville company will have a branch factory in the Line City.

RINGLING BROTHERS AFTER LAND IN MADISON NOW

Is Janesville to Be Neglected as Headquarters for Sells-Forrepaugh Aggregation.

This morning's issue of the Madison Democrat prints the following: "It is understood that the Ringling Bros. are making negotiations for the purchase of the land between the North-Western and St. Paul tracks, east of the North-Western roundhouse. The land is owned by the North-Western railway company. It is said that the Ringlings contemplate locating the winter quarters here for the Sells-Forrepaugh circus in which they have an interest. The land, in question would be an ideal location for the winter quarters, lying as it does between the tracks of the two railroad companies, thus furnishing excellent railroad facilities."

MR. AND MRS. CHATELLE

Thousands of Women

ARE MADE WELL AND STRONG

Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Rests Upon the Fact that It Really Does Make Sick Women Well.

Thousands upon thousands of American women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Their letters are on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office, and prove this statement to be a fact and not a mere boast.

Overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine, and compared with it all other medicines and treatment for women are experiments.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished such widespread results for good?

Why has it lived and thrived and done its glorious work for a quarter of a century?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has even approached its success is plainly and positively because there is no other medicine in the world so good for women's ills.

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is not because it is a stimulant—not because it is a palliative—but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and restorative ever discovered to act directly upon the female system, positively curing disease and displacements and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due. If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience that it will effect a cure.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), weakness, displacements, inflammation, ulceration, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Any way write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It's free and always helpful.

Francis, president of the fair committee, consisting of Breckinridge Jones, L. D. Dozier and S. M. Kelton, president of the Chicago & Alton railway.

Under Secretary of State Wernuth, who was the German commissioner general to the Columbian exhibition at Chicago, proposed the health of Emperor William and President Roosevelt, and welcomed Mr. Francis and his party to Germany on behalf of the government.

Dr. Lewald toasted Mr. Francis, narrating the pleasant relations which had existed at St. Louis, and praising the executive ability of Mr. Francis and the committee. VETERANS CHOOSE LEADER FOR YEAR

R. B. BROWN OF OHIO ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION.

OTHERS GIVE FREE FIELD

After Making Manly Fight for Place Opponents Show Spirit of Brotherly Love in Asking Friends to Support Victor.

Commander-in-Chief—R. B. Brown, Janesville, O.

Senior Vice Commander—William H. Armstrong, Indianapolis.

Junior Vice Commander—E. B. Fenton, Detroit.

Chaplain-in-Chief—Archbishop John Ireland, St. Paul.

Surgeon General—W. H. Johnson, Lincoln, Neb.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 17.—The above officers were elected Thursday at the annual meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic. All other officers are staff appointments and will be announced later by the new commander-in-chief.

The strongest opponents of Mr. Brown for the honor of being commander-in-chief were C. G. Burton of Missouri and Capt. P. K. Coney of Kansas. Both of these withdrew when it was seen that the election of Mr. Brown was a certainty. The friends of the newly elected commander-in-chief declared Wednesday night that there was no possibility of his beating their man for the position, inasmuch as he had received the promise of support from the four strongest delegations at the convention: Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York.

Yield Gracefully.

The followers of Burton and Coney, however, refused to accept the situation as outlined by the Brown adherents, but when the convention came to elect the commander-in-chief, it was seen that the election of Brown could not be prevented, and so both men declined the nomination and asked their friends to vote for Brown, who was chosen by acclamation.

Several candidates were nominated for senior and junior vice commanders, but at the last instant all withdrew in favor of Armstrong for the senior position and Fenton for the junior place, and both men were chosen unanimously. Archbishop Ireland had no rivals for the position of chaplain-in-chief.

Next Encampment.

After the elections the place of holding the next encampment was taken up, and the New York delegation presented Saratoga. An adjournment was taken before a vote was reached, and other cities that desire the encampment will have an opportunity to present their claims. The sentiment is strong, however, in favor of Saratoga.

It is expected that the debate on the Wirz proposition will come up in Friday's session. The present probability is that some animated discussion will follow the introduction of any resolution on the matter. Despite the fact that Commander-in-Chief Tanner so strongly urged in his message that a protest be made against the erection of a monument to the memory of Wirz, there is a pronounced feeling among the delegates that the matter is not one of which the Grand Army at this time should take official notice.

Commander Brown.

The new commander-in-chief of the Grand Army, R. B. Brown, was born in 1845 and has always lived in Ohio. He enlisted in the Fifteenth Ohio Infantry at the age of 16 years and served in the Fourteenth Army corps in the Army of the Cumberland until he was mustered out in 1864. He then reenlisted as a veteran soldier and served as such until the end of the war. He was a private throughout the first three years of his service and then became a non-commissioned officer. He has always been made a practice of feigning insanity and running through the streets, would murder or maim many Christians before they could be checked by Americans. Col. Wallace was located near Jolo and upon the outbreak of these cruel atrocities determined to put a stop to them, if possible. He took personal charge of the next case of "religious fanaticism" after the soldiers had killed the Mohammedan for the murder of one of his comrades. Col. Wallace had the body of the Filipino placed in a grave near the market place and upon the assembling of a large crowd, the Colonel had the carcass of a dead hog hung over the grave, the blood trickling down upon the dead Mohammedan. This act was considered by the followers of Mahomet a defilement of a son of the prophet and condemnation of the man's soul to eternal damnation. This act of Col. Wallace struck the people with terror and caused a cessation in the promiscuous killing of Christians for the glorification of Mahomet.

All requirements were recently met in official tests of the adaptability of automobiles to the rural delivery service. Buckboards of four-horse power were used in these tests, with a wheel gauge of 42 inches, propelled by a single cylinder, air-cooled gasoline engine, the cars weighing about 620 pounds. The tests were made on some of the roughest roads on the outskirts of Washington and the motors negotiated them with little difficulty, delay or disaster. During the trials the operator had perfect control of the machine, it reached the properly placed rural boxes with precision, climbed and descended steep rough and dangerous hills with apparent ease and waded through mud holes in heavy rain storms without damaging the mail collected on the trip. During the trial of these motors three routes which by ordinary horse conveyance would have taken something near a day of 24 hours to serve were covered in less than nine hours by the machine. The cost of fuel consumed in operating the machines in these tests was computed to be less than one cent and one-tenth per mile.

"From the White House to the Jail" would no doubt be a good title for the next book which Julius Simms may give to the world. Simms was a trusted clerk of Abraham Lincoln at the White House many years ago and was sent to the workhouse recently for habitual drunkenness. Simms, who is seventy years old, has held positions of trust and honor in his earlier days. For years he was a clerk at the White House, trusted by Presidents with some of their most important correspondence. It is said that on the morning of the day Lincoln was shot, the President dictated several personal letters to Simms. He is a well educated man, having written several books, most of them dealing with reminiscences of his days at the White House. Simms was born in Chicago and received his early education there. He was an expert stenographer, reporting many of the speeches of Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas. He is also a lawyer, having graduated from the old Columbian college in this city. In the prime of life he was a hard working, conscientious and sober man, but of late years he has heavily dissipated and was recently sent to the workhouse on the charge of habitual drunkenness.

Owing to the gradual increase in the output of alligator leather in the United States, fears are being entertained by the officials of the Fish Commission that that animal is being exterminated in the Southern States. The slaughter of these animals is both for pleasure and for their leather has been immense in recent years. The output of the tanneries of alligator leather in this country is estimated at about 280,000 hides annually, worth about $450,000. There are several varieties of alligator hides on the market, the most important being the Mexican, Louisiana and the Florida, all of which differ in many respects. About 55 per cent of the alligator hides in the United States are furnished by Mexico and Central America; 22 per cent by Florida, 20 per cent by Louisiana and 3 per cent by the other Gulf states. The quantity of alligators has decreased greatly in the last few years in the southern states and it seems only a question of a short time when it will be impossible to obtain hides at a price that will warrant their employment in the manufacture of leather. An instance of the scarcity of alligators in the south may be noted in the fact that in Louisiana the number of alligators at present is at least thirty per cent less than twenty years ago.

CONNECTICUT LEAF
CROP IS SPLENDID

Is Now Being Harvested—Shortage Exists Only in the Cheaper Grades.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, D. C., Aug. 16.—Your correspondent is in receipt of the following report on the tobacco crop in Connecticut:

"The tobacco crop in the Connecticut valley is now being harvested and a splendid crop it is. Its equal has not been seen in many years. The crop as a whole is way above the average, although there are a few pieces that seem to have been stunted at the start. The growers are elated over the high prices paid by the buyers for the Wisconsin crop. As Wisconsin tobacco is dark and used for binders and fillers, Connecticut valley growers feel that they ought to get at least fifty per cent more than their western brethren. Some buyers say the shortage of tobacco in the market is only in the cheaper grades and that prices hereabouts will not be much higher than last year, but if weather conditions are propitious during the curing season it is safe to say that the farmers that can afford to hold their crops will not sell them at binder prices."

FOREIGN CONSULS
MAKING REPORTS

Makes Report That Will Be Interesting to All the Tobacco Growers and Dealers.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—The Department of Commerce and Labor is in receipt of a report of British Consul Churchward at San Juan, to the British Foreign Office, on the conditions of trade and industry in Porto Rico during the past year. According to this report, $234,000 worth of tobacco and manufactures were received by Porto Rico from the United States during the calendar year 1905, while Porto Rico shipped $2,662,000 worth of cigars and $457,000 worth of leaf tobacco to the United States in the same period. Speaking of the tobacco industry in general in Porto Rico, Consul Churchward says: "Tobacco during the year considerably improved its position among the most valuable staples of export in the island, both in quality and quantity, through the more scientific methods of cultivation now adopted. Most attention was paid to the production of a superior wrapper which has resulted in a leaf being grown under cheese cloth cover that, with the improved filter tobacco now grown, makes a cigar that compares well with the best of Habana brands. The greatest part of the crop is exported to the United States in the form of cigars and the inferior grades of tobacco in the raw form find their way to the markets of Germany and the Netherlands. Tobacco to the value of $3,200,000 was exported during the year, of which $2,664,000 worth was manufactured."

Uncle Was Dense.

A proud young father telegraphed the news of his new responsibility to his brother in this fashion: "A handsome boy has come to my house and claims to be your nephew. We are doing our best to give him a proper welcome." The brother, however, failed to see the point, and replied: "I have not got a nephew. The young man is an impostor."

Ancient Celtic Phrase.

The phrase "his mother's white-headed boy" is as old as the hills in Ireland. It appears in many of the Irish fairy stories of the last century. Irish mothers who knew good fairies always kept the secret for the "white-headed boy" of the family. Gerald Griffin, in one of his best short stories, years ago used the phrase as one he had borrowed from an old Celtic book.

A Bodkin Substitute.

A small safety pin makes a very good substitute for a bodkin when that useful but elusive article makes its absence felt, as it usually chooses to do at the very moment you're setting to run ribbons and tapes in the piles of laundered underclothes.

Kaiser's Magnificent Draftboard. The German emperor owns the most valuable draftboard in existence. The light and dark squares are made of silver and gold and the drafts are also made of silver and gold, each having a diamond or a ruby in the center.

REMOVAL SALE

The Story & Clark Piano Co. came here to advertise themselves and to sell pianos. We have accomplished both. More people know that there is a Story & Clark Piano and more people are using them in Rock County than ever before.

We have some pianos left that we're going to sell, and we're going to sell them because we've put a price on them that will MAKE them go. It costs money to pack and ship pianos, so we're giving you this and also the profit in order to get rid of them right away. Every instrument is new and perfect in every way. If you have hesitated before, thinking you could not afford one, hesitate no longer, for the price is down where you CAN afford it now.

ANOTHER TRUNK SALE!

For Saturday, Aug. 18th, Only.

When traveling or away on a visit it's a great deal of comfort to have a trunk that is handy, convenient and with separate compartments for the various articles that you may wish to carry, so that when you go to your trunk for something, it is not necessary to "dump" the whole business on the floor in order to get at what you want.

Tomorrow we shall place on sale a Bureau Trunk, canvas covered, iron bound, steel angles, oil painted, sheet steel binding and bands, malleable iron corners, steel clamps, two Excelsior locks, large bolts on front and ends, long straps, three drawers—one for hat, and side compartment portfolio in top, and faced with fancy Holland lining. A 34-inch solid riveted trunk, one that will stand the hard "bumps" of traveling; regular price $15.00; $12.00 tomorrow for one day only.

Another, a 36-inch Bureau Trunk, large square top, four heavy strips—two in front and back and two on end; protected with large steel bumpers and corners, brass Excelsior lock and side locks; leather sliding handles, steel capped; two drawers, upper one 6 1/2 inches deep with two side compartments, lower tray 4 1/2 inches deep. This trunk is hinged on top and will open without removing from the wall. An exceedingly handy trunk for packing; regular price $12.50; tomorrow only $11.00.
